

It is very hard to run a business and take care of your customers when companies call and solicit us during business ours. Don't they understand how hard it is to take there calls and be interrupted or do they not care. I hang up on them any way and will continue to do so. I will save my time for the customers that pay for our services and deserve my time.